

FEES FOR SELF FUNDING PATIENTS FOR LAPAROSCOPIC EXCISION OF ENDOMETRIOSIS

We participate with the Spire Glen Hospital in a scheme for fixed cost surgery for patients who are going to be paying for themselves rather than through an insurance company. The fixed fee for Laparoscopic Excision of Endometriosis (with or without laparoscopic hysterectomy) includes the fee for Sanjay Vyas, the anaesthetist, hospital and all other costs associated with the operation itself. It also includes the fee for the first follow up visit after the operation. Depending on the extent of surgery, this maybe a few days or a few weeks after the operation and we will advise you of this when you are discharged from hospital. Within this fee, there is a costing for 5 nights stay in the hospital. However, most patients who have this operation do not stay in for 5 nights and if you go home sooner, you would be refunded a proportion of the fee.

Sanjay Vyas will perform the surgery for endometriosis himself. However, occasionally it may become necessary for him to involve another surgeon in the operation. If this situation can be predicted pre-operatively, we will inform you of it and the additional surgeon's fee would be added to the fixed fee. We will advise you of the exact cost of this prior to booking the surgery. However, on rare occasions it may become necessary to involve another surgeon during the operation itself. This could happen for example, if the endometriosis is more extensively involving the bowel than was first thought or if a section of the bowel needs to be removed. It could also happen where the ureters or bladder are involved in endometriosis and further surgery is needed. In the unlikely event of these eventualities occurring, we would involve one of our bowel surgery or urological colleagues and the fee for their services would be charged in addition to the above.
